

Shadow Arís,

Lord Groves has had a change of heart regarding the Sajenese under his dominion. He has approached several of us inquiring about our "skills." It would appear that Groves has been slighted by the mayor somehow and seeks to assassinate the grandson of the mayor upon his imminent return to Troll's Bridge.

Another development here in Troll's Bridge and in Kramer is rumors of a Night Stalker that has been sweeping in the direction of Troll's Bridge, reaping as he goes. The correspondence received in Troll's Bridge indicates the name of this Night Stalker is Oz. Some bard appears to have uncovered some prophecy and connecting it to this individual. It does parallel a Sajenese fable in a fashion.

In confidence,

Shadow Balís
